Reviews

I just began reading this pdf. It is actually written in straightforward words instead of hard to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Not illustrated. 1903 Excerpt: .eccentricity of the ellipse, they will be in equilibrium for all positions of W on the curve; and if they have any other ratio they will not be in equilibrium at any point, except at the extremities of the axis, A and B . In Conic Sections the proportion involving e , given in this article, may not be given in this form. If a be the semi-major axis, and x the abscissa of the point c in reference to the centre, then the following equations are usually given, viz. the radius vector, de , $= -a ex$; the distance from the focus to the foot of the normal, de , $= e(a ex)$; the plus sign being used for the distance ed , and the minus sign for ed . These values readily give $de - e(a ex) - de a ex$ hence, the proportion given in the text. 262. Let the curve be an hyperbola, the pin being in the upper focus. Proceeding as before, we find W but in this case e exceeds unity; hence W must exceed P , while in the former case W must be less than P . 063. Suppose, in the preceding case, that the pin over which the string passes is at the centre of the hyperbola. Let a be the semi-major axis, b the semi-minor axis, the axis of x horizontal, and y vertical. The axis of the hyperbola being vertical, the equation will be $a^2 - b^2 = a^2 W$. (1) Construct the triangle of forces cab , in which ah wiU be...
