The urgency in the young man s voice awakened Bette from a deep sleep. The dream was so vivid that it prompted Bette to pray, Lord, help my son, please help my son, not knowing which of her sons was in need of prayer. This cry for help ushered in the most dramatic season of Bette s life, as the Lord orchestrated a reunion with the son she had placed for adoption at birth. Forty years earlier, Bette was a single graduate student with a crisis pregnancy. Her desperation led her to two abortion attempts and an emergency delivery at six months. With no way to care for a baby, Bette placed him for adoption. She returned to her studies and went on with her life, eventually marrying and having two sons. Yet, she always wondered what had happened to that baby. Four days after her dream and call to prayer, Bette received a life-changing phone call. Hello, my name is Michael Moore. I have a personal matter I would like to discuss with you dating all the way back to 1970. I ve been trying to find my birth mother, and your name turned up in my search. With her world up-ended, Bette consulted with her husband and a friend who had recently experienced a similar reunion with the granddaughter she had never met. Through their advice and much prayer, Bette summoned the courage to talk with Michael about his birth and discovered that indeed, this was her son. Michael had been born three months premature and was adopted at three months of age. Amazingly, he had survived his mother s early first abortion...
